New York, Feb. 8.—Jem Driscoll, the English featherweight, and Abe Attell, champion, will likely meet here on February 18th. Attell wired from New Orleans that he would meet Driscoll at 124 pounds. Driscoll's manager has been holding out for 126 pounds but it is likely that he will give in to "Foxy Abe."

New York, Feb. 8.—After an absence of almost four years, Faby White, the English lightweight, has returned to these shores and lost no time in stating that he desired a match with Battling Nelson on the lightweight championship. White came here in 1905. He met Jimmy Britt, who battered the Englishman to pieces. This setback and stunned White and he returns, he says in better condition.

New York, Feb. 8.—Recovered from the strain under which he labored while running Tom Longboat in the Marathon race last Friday night, Altered Shrub, the English runner, will today meet Longboat's managers and try to arrange a series of short races with the Indian. Shrub stated that he would be willing to meet the Indian again at the full Marathon course. He admitted that Longboat beat him fairly but said that if they met in another Marathon he felt confident that he could reverse the victory.

CROSS SAYS HELL

What promises to be one of the fastest battles seen hereabouts is scheduled to take place on Wednesday night at the Fairmont, A. C., 13th street and Third avenue, New York. Between Leach Cross, the pride of the East Side, and Jim Driscoll, the English champion, who has been winning continuously since his arrival in this country last summer. Driscoll runs from eight to ten miles every day, besides taking his indoor work, and already has used up three of his training partners.
Cross is of the opinion that Driscoll cannot hit him hard enough to do any great damage. Cross said yesterday: "I will beat Driscoll. I am in the best of shape and will go at Driscoll like a clever man, but I will whip him just the same."

BASKETBALL

Bridgeport High School girls' basketball team were in bad at New Haven Saturday afternoon and lost to the Anderson symposium team of last city by the score of 8-4. The first half was played under boys rules, and at the end Bridgeport was on top with a score of 6-1. In the second half the play was changed to the girls' rules. Bridgeport being shut out and New Haven capturing seven points. The local girls were entirely unfamiliar with the game play, and needed to stop their opponents in the Crawford. Because of the fact that the teams play two different styles of games, the contest scheduled for this city Saturday next at the Garden is expected to be an endeavor to land a team during the week that has discarded the old style of play and taken on more modern ideas.

After a brief illness Anna M., widow of Henry Chownell, died Saturday night at her home, 225 Prospect street, in her 80th year. The deceased was survived by four sons, Frederick, Arthur, William and Charles Chownell, and one daughter, Louise. In the circles in which she moved she was held in the highest respect.

Walk To Your Meals Like A Man

Eat What You Will And Learn To Enjoy Food And to Digest It.

HERE'S THE SECRET, FREE.

Make up your mind after reading this that you will let the next meal hold no terrors for you. You can enjoy it. You can digest it. All that is needed is to give nature the juices she lacks to give the stomach a chance to remove the terrible irritating acids, alkalies and gasses which turn food and nourishment into garbage. A simple system is run down and depleted it needs building up. Ashes won't rekindle a fire and wrong digestive fluids will not take proper food from food no matter how good the food is.
Is this common sense? Men spend years and even life experimenting on the human system, what lacks in disease and what it needs in perfection. This knowledge is known to every physician or should be. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are compressed natural vegetable and fruit essences which when mixed with the saliva of the mouth go into the stomach capable of digesting a full meal and they digest it to the uttermost shred. Then such a meal does you good and it gives to him the means to overcome stomach troubles. Forty thousand physicians use these tablets and charge you for writing a testimonial of their merit which they call a prescription. Any druggist in America or Canada will sell you a box for 50c. Think of it. Every druggist carries them. Here's common sense again. Don't tell you there is merit? Go to your druggist today, buy a package and walk up to your meals knowing that they will not cause you pain. Send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. BASEBALL BITS

NEW AND NEWSY

Word was received from Boston last night that King Brockett and Tom Hughes, both pitchers, have been sold by the Boston Americans to the New York Americans. Both Brockett and Hughes have performed in the box for the Highlanders, but neither man showed enough ability to warrant retention and both were shipped to the minors.

They were with Newark last season, from which club the Red Sox bought them. Both Brockett and Hughes may be taken to the spring training trip, and if they fail to measure up to St. Louis' expectations, they may be turned over to Newark once more.

Kip Seibach, who, some years ago, covered left field for the Giants and afterward with several American League teams, has blossomed out as a first-fledged minor league magnate. Kip has been in the Newark franchise of the Ohio State League and will manage the team himself and probably play left field. Seibach's last berth was with the Harrisburg club of the Tri-State League.

Stanley Robinson, owner of the Cardinals, of which team the gallant Roger Bresnahan is manager, has issued with an important statement. Robinson says: "I do not expect Bresnahan to win the National League pennant this year."

Good for Robinson. Now will Garry Herrmann and George Dovey speak out in Indianapolis last week Mike Donlin paid a strong tribute to Larry Doyle, the hard hitting second baseman of the Giants. Mike said: "I consider Doyle to be almost the individual star of the Giants. That boy hasn't a weakness. He covers acres of ground, has an arm of steel, is a hard slicker and a rare baserunner. I attribute our failure to beat out the Cubs last season to Doyle's injury in the last month of the campaign. In my opinion, he's one of the stars of the game."

President Navin of the Detroit Americans is not having much trouble getting his champion line. Crawford, Cobb, Donovan, McIntyre, Rossman, Mullin and Schmidt have had their salaries boosted and by the time the returns are all in the Tigers will have the largest payroll of any club in the country.

Catcher Wilson has signed with the Giants. Manager McGraw says he thinks a good deal of this youngster. Secretary Fred Knowles has booked another exhibition game for the team. The Newark team will play the Giants on the Polo Grounds on April 12. Graw's second team will play in Trenton on April 10, the day on which the regular Giants play Yale at the Polo Grounds.

SHRUBB SAYS

SMOKE DID IT

There was a rumor last night that Al Shrub had dropped dead in the street yesterday and the wires of the Empire Hotel, where Shrub is staying fairly buzzed with anxious inquiries. Last night Shrub said: "No, I'm not dead. I am far from it. In fact, barring a bit of stiffness in my limbs I am one of the liveliest fellows in New York. You know a race like this, but not any more so than I sound. I wish to correct some of the statements in the newspaper saying that I came near dying after the race last Friday night. I was all in it, it is true, but not any more so than I sound. I was expected after a hard distance race. It was the smoke that killed me. That was terrible air for a man to breathe. I never will race in the Garden again unless smoking is prohibited.
"I have not made any future plans yet. It is possible that I will meet Longboat in a special fifteen mile race in Buffalo, near the end of the month. Sporting promoters there have made me a good offer. I also have been asked to meet Longboat in a fifteen-mile race in New York. I probably will contract to-morrow for one of the races."
It is said that the Buffalo promoters have offered a $7,500 purse, split $5,000

REILLY'S BOND

FIXED AT $1,500

Accused Ran Amuck in the a Water Street Lodging House and Cut up Charles Anderson.

The case of Michael Reilly, who ran amuck in Wells' lodging house, 520 Water street, Saturday night, was continued until the 13th by Judge Pulman in the city court this morning to await the result of the injuries he inflicted on Charles Anderson with a knife. Reilly applied at the lodging house for a bed Saturday night, but was refused on account of his well known turbulent disposition. He came in against the clock in the morning and was given a room rather than have a fight with him. He had hardly reached his room when he attacked Charles Anderson, a regular boarder who occupied the room next to the one to which Reilly had been assigned. Reilly made quick work of Anderson with his knife who fell to the floor, gasping for breath. Reilly then turned his attention to William Coleman who had come to Anderson's assistance. Coleman escaped a similar experience by using a mattress as a shield against the infuriated man. The auto ambulance was out on another call and Anderson was brought to the emergency hospital in the patrol wagon. A stretchy was improvised from a straw pallet and the wounded man was taken down the three flights of stairs with great difficulty. Anderson's wound is dangerous but not necessarily fatal. Reilly's deep cut in the neck made by Reilly's clasp knife. Reilly looks capable of a murderous assault with a knife. At St. Vincent's hospital at this afternoon it was said that Anderson was doing well and would probably recover.

Reilly's bond was fixed at $1,500, an amount which he will not be able to produce.

A domestic employed by the Jeromes was found dead today having committed suicide by turning on the gas. Jerome was awakened just in time to save himself and wife.

SENATE MAY PASS

POSTAL SAVINGS BILL

(Special from United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 8.—Advocates of the postal savings bank bill in the Senate today warmly encouraged because of a reported change of heart on the part of the leaders. Senator Aldrich and others of the "Elder statesmen" have, it is said, concluded that it will be advisable to permit the measure to pass the Senate without further obstruction, particularly in view of the fact that the Republican National platform promised that action would be taken towards the establishment of these banks.

ASSISTANCE FOR

GROUNDLESS VESSEL

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Feb. 8.—The wrecking ship Pascoe Scott has gone to the assistance of the grounded schooner Fleetby, Nova Scotia to New York, ashore near Point Judith. The Fleetby has a cargo of 84 tons of wood pulp and went on the rocks during a northeaster last night.

DENIES PETITION.

(Special from United Press.)

New York, Feb. 8.—Judge Noyes in an opinion seconded by Judge La-combe to-day refused the application of the New York Hudson River Railroad Company for an injunction to restrain the Inter-state Commerce Commission from enforcing its order of June 24, 1908 fixing the charges for shunt and switching charges on products from the west to this port for export. Judge Ward filed dissenting opinion. The opinion was filed in the court of appeals.

CITY BRIEFS

Joseph Perry, colored has been absent from the city since August 21 when he committed an assault upon Albert Dawson also colored. Saturday night he returned and was given admittance to his former boarding house, 169 Housatonic avenue. A boarder notified Dawson and he in turn notified the police and Perry was arrested. He is alleged that Perry had been picked up again after 10 o'clock, Saturday night by Patrolman Williams. They were taken to headquarters where Sgt. Webb allowed them to go home after a lecture. The boys live with their parents at 115 Wilbur street. The father says he is unable to control the boys and does not care if they are sent to the reform school. The boys gave evidence of neglect and say they are obliged to sell papers by their parents.

END OF A RED NOSE

New Flesh-Colored Product That Heals and Hides Skin Imperfections.

A peculiar feature of poslam, a new skin discovery, is that it is naturally flesh-colored and contains no grease, so that when used on the face for the complexion, or for pimples, red noses, or any other inflammations, blemishes, or discolorations, its presence cannot be detected. It can be used at any time in the daytime, the natural color of the skin being immediately restored and the actual healing and curing process accomplished in a few days. It cures all cases of eczema. Itching stops at once.

The Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York, are the sole dispensing agents for poslam in the United States, and will send an experimental quantity free by mail in plain wrapper to all who write for it. This will show results after an overnight application.

THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

America's automobile industry is in its tenth year.

It is estimated that there are now more than 200,000 active users of automobiles in the United States.

A number of commercial auto-trucks is now offering a vehicle with a carrying capacity of 10 tons. It is the largest capacity single vehicle in the world.

Clear has actually arisen among selling agents in several sections of the country that the supply of high-grade cars this season will run short.

More and more motorists are appreciating the fact that the absence of an oil bill is a sure sign of a repair bill, and they also know that the oil bill is the least of the evils.

The perfecting of the automobile bill before the West Virginia Legislature is that it makes it obligatory to use a chain or "other contrivance" when the roads are slippery.

One of the best and simplest things to clean the lens mirrors is a mixture of equal parts of alcohol and water; a 50 per cent. solution evaporates more slowly than pure alcohol, so giving time for the lens to dry.

See that the storage batteries are always held tightly in their box, and that all connections are tight. Rubber sheeting is a good material for covering the battery and its leads.

After a recent snow storm in Reading, Pa., in which the roads were left almost impassable, the city's automobile design attached an ordinary land roller to a sextuplet and rolled six miles of roadway, putting it in excellent shape.

For a series of extensive tests, a company with headquarters in Jersey City, N. J., and operating 223 branch stores in the United States, has decided to replace some 1,500 horses and horse-drawn vehicles in favor of motor delivery service.

When a motorist has become some expert in the running of his car he will find that the most economical fuel used until the point is found at which the motor runs well, but will not stand a further reduction. The smaller the proportion of gasoline the more the motor will run and the cleaner it will keep.

Again the question of building a scientifically constructed hill with absolutely correct grades is engaging the attention of the members of the Minneapolis Automobile Club. The idea was broached last summer and a subscription list was at once started for the purpose of raising the money for the subject is up for consideration.

Longer wheelbase, larger tires, better and more comfortable seats, more cars fitted with foot rests to allow a change of position while driving, more comfortable riding handle bars, a lower center of gravity, better mudguards, a more efficient exhaust system, and stronger frames these changes are the improvements in the motorcycle this year.

A frequent cause of leaks in radiators is said to be that the vents in the filling caps become clogged with sediment or dust, with the consequence that steam accumulates in the radiator, and the pressure, seeking an outlet, forces out the weakest point.

A mixture of red lead, white lead and gold size will be found an excellent means of stopping any leaks of this kind.

In an effort to abolish speed traps in several sections of Massachusetts, the Automobile Owners' Association of that State has introduced a bill in the Legislature taking the control of speed from the authorities and placing it in the hands of the State Highway Commissioners. A branch of the State Constabulary is provided for, to patrol the roads and watch for violation of the law.

A high-pressure hose wagon is now in use in New York City, built on a chassis chassis equipped with a high-pressure pump. There are two plugs on each side of the wagon, four in all, allowing four high-pressure lines to be coupled on. These lead to a high, pivoted nozzle in the center of the car, which, except for height, answer all the purposes of a fire tower.

The body of the wagon is arranged in the form of bins. The only one set of wheels can be carried; no work may be done on them without p-nalization, and every stop or failure to make controls on wheels will cause a penalization to be applied.

SICILY AGAIN SHAKEN.

(Special from United Press.)

Syracuse, Sicily, Feb. 8.—An earthquake shock was felt at Noto, near the city of Syracuse, today. The earthquake was severe than the last shock but it did no damage.

GIVE YOUR TEETH

SOME EXERCISE

Don't Be Like Roman of Un-enlightened Age Who Bandaged Arms to Preserve Strength.

UNUSED MOLARS

MEANS DENTAL BREAKDOWN

Favoring Teeth on One Side of Mouth Early Decay of Those on Other Side Not in Use.

To preserve a proper degree of health the teeth should be exercised the same as the other organs of the body. We all know the story of the Roman who after marvelous exhibitions of strength, in which all his rivals were defeated, finally met defeat by an opponent. He was very much angered and challenged the man who had defeated him to another contest at a stated future date. The defeated man then decided that for the weeks prior to the contest he would wrap up his arms in bandages and not use them, thus preserving and saving, as he thought, a mighty force of strength. When the time of the contest was at hand he removed the bandages and in his attempt at weight lifting found his arms to possess no strength at all, he being as helpless as a child. The experience of this Roman enlightened the people of his age and made clear to them that if bodily strength is to be rather exercise must be taken. It is the same with the teeth. If they are going to be healthy, if they are not going to decay they must be exercised, or used as it were. The function of the teeth is primarily that of mastication and like all other organs of the body they degenerate when not in active use. Thorough mastication not only strengthens the teeth, but prevents the deposition of tartar by the constant friction of the food upon the walls of the teeth. When using the teeth it is necessary that all of them be used. Many people in masticating food favor one side of the mouth, possibly for no other reason than because some tooth on the other side is in the beginning of a decayed condition and it is feared that further harm will come by its use. The significance of having the imperfect tooth cared for by a dentist is very great because every day it is not being used the other teeth on its side remain idle thus allowing tartar to collect and cause the early breakdown of the teeth of that side of the mouth, which condition it is feared if you have a tooth in your mouth which for any reason, unsoundness or anything else, you are not using, you are doing damage to the entire condition of your mouth and you require the consultation of a capable dentist.

No matter what the condition of your mouth is, one decayed tooth or many, if you want dental work that is the most serviceable and absolutely non-detectable, which means it will be so natural that even experts will not detect that you have fillings, crown or bridge work in your mouth, you should visit Dr. Weldlich, the famous Porcelain Dentist, No. 5 Citizens' Building.

Only The Truth.

A virtue carried to excess may become ridiculous. To such action one may well preach, "Be temperate in all things," even in virtue. Amelia Ople, the English authoress, was not content with any half measures, as is shown in a letter from her quoted in "Quaker Pictures," by Wilfred Whittier. Mrs. Ople's course of conduct is to be respected as proceeding from her conscientious nature, but fiction readers may congratulate themselves that her opinions are not universal.

Before she became a Quaker she wrote fiction. After her conversion she was asked to contribute a story to a magazine. Her answer to the editor ran as follows:

"Thou knowest or ought to know that since I became a Friend I am not free to write a fact for thy perusal or any little matter of history or truth or a poem if thou wishest, but I must not lie and say such and such a thing took place when it did not. Dost thou understand?"

A Famous Story.

Every section has its famous story. A famous story that is being retold in Oregon is about a very rich banker who got his start by doing work for the government. His bill was $5,000, and it had to be submitted to congress. Congress has a habit of cutting its bills in two. To make allowance for this he jumped his bill to $10,000. He sent the bill to the governor for his approval. The governor, having also heard that congress generally appropriated only half as much as was asked, jumped it to $20,000. The bill was then sent to one of the congressmen.

Being friendly to the contractor, he jumped it to $40,000 and sent it to another Oregon congressman for his approval. The second congressman jumped it to $80,000. Congress allowed the whole $80,000, although the contractor was entitled to only $5,000. This is told as a fact in Oregon. The man who got the $80,000 got his start on it and is now a millionaire.—Acheson Globe.

A "Lady" in Pepsy's Time.

There were worse terrors than the matinee for the man who sat behind a lady in the seventeenth century theater, as recalled by the London Chronicle. At least, we may suppose so from Mr. Pepsy's experience on Jan. 23, 1661, when he saw "The Lost Lady" for the second time. Nine days earlier that play had not pleased him much, partly perhaps because he was "troubled to be seen by four of our office clerks, which sat in the half crown box and I in the 1s. 6d." But on the second occasion the play did "please me better than before, and here, I sitting behind in a dark place, lady spit backward upon me by a mistake, not seeing me." However, it was all right, for, "after seeing her to be a very pretty lady, I was not troubled at it at all."

POPE RECEIVES

AMERICAN OFFICERS.

(Special from United Press.)

Rome, Feb. 8.—The Pope today received a delegation of officers and a number of sailors of the American supply ship Celtic who were introduced by M
